The collective testing day of the Formula Regional European Championship by Alpine at Spa-Francorchamps comes to an end. This morning, during the long pre-event session that lasted for 3 hours, Tim Tramnitz from R-ace GP set the fastest time of the day with a lap time of 2'14.548, followed by Kirill Smal from Monolite Racing with a gap of +0.469.

In the early afternoon, the first session of collective testing took place, lasting for 50 minutes. During this session, a duo of Prema Racing drivers set the pace, with Brazilian Rafael Camara recording the fastest lap time of 2'15.442, closely followed by his Italian teammate Andrea Kimi Antonelli with a gap of 0.083. Marcus Amand, Franco-Finnish driver from ART Grand Prix, claimed the third position with a gap of 0.148. Dutch driver Kas Haverkort from Van Amersfoort Racing secured the fourth place, finishing his best lap with a gap of 0.292. Behind him, Michael Belov from G4 Racing completed the top 5, with a gap of 0.304.
